Conduction of Workshop:

The workshop on Patent Drafting for Beginners, conducted by Mr. Sachin Lokapure, proved to be a resounding success. The participants, comprising M. Pharm First Year (SEM-I) and Second Year (SEM-III) students, actively engaged in the sessions, demonstrating enthusiasm and dedication to learning.

The sessions were meticulously organized, covering essential aspects of patent drafting as per the outlined objectives. Mr. Sachin Lokapure's expertise and interactive teaching style significantly contributed to a comprehensive understanding of patent law and drafting techniques.

The schedule, spread over several days, allowed for in-depth exploration of each topic. Practical exercises and case studies were integrated, providing hands-on experience and enhancing the application of theoretical knowledge.

Vote of Thanks:

The vote of thanks was presented by Dr. J. S. Mulla, the Faculty Co-ordinator, expressing gratitude to Mr. Sachin Lokapure for his valuable insights and effective delivery. He extended thanks to the college management, led by Dr. V. R. Aralelimath, for providing the opportunity to conduct the workshop. Dr. Mulla acknowledged the proactive support of faculty members and the essential contributions of non-teaching staff in the seamless organization of the workshop. Additionally, he expressed appreciation to the participating students for their attentiveness and commitment throughout the program.

The successful execution of the workshop reflects the college's commitment to providing quality education and skill development opportunities to its students. The positive feedback from participants underscores the significance of such initiatives in enhancing the overall learning experience. The college looks forward to organizing more such workshops in the future to continue nurturing the academic and professional growth of its students.

Descriptive Report:

The workshop on Techniques of Section Cutting, Preparation of Sample & Microscopic Evaluation of Crude Drugs, for Second Year B, Pharm students; conducted at Shree Santkrupa College of Pharmacy, Ghogaon, was a resounding success. Mr. R. G. Patrakar, an experienced trainer, effectively covered the course objectives, providing the students with in-depth knowledge and practical skills in section cutting, sample preparation, and microscopic evaluation of crude drugs.

The syllabus was meticulously covered, with theoretical sessions complemented by extended practical sessions. The trainer's expertise and engaging teaching style contributed to a positive learning environment, fostering a deeper understanding of the subject matter.

The program's schedule was thoughtfully planned, allowing for comprehensive coverage of the topics without overwhelming the participants. The combination of theory and practical sessions ensured that students could apply their knowledge in real-world scenarios.

The workshop's success can be attributed to the efficient coordination by Mr. R. G. Patrakar and the support from the college management led by Dr. V. R. Aralelimath. The faculty members played a crucial role in organizing the workshop, and the non-teaching staff ensured all necessary arrangements were in place.

Vote of Thanks:

The workshop's success was acknowledged by Mr. Atul M. Kadam, who expressed gratitude to:

- Trainer (Mr. R. G. Patrakar) for the successful conduction of the program
- Management and Principal for providing the opportunity to conduct the workshop
- Students for their patient learning
- All faculty members for organizing the workshop
- Non-teaching staff for making necessary arrangements

This workshop not only met but exceeded its objectives, providing valuable knowledge and practical skills to the Second Year B. Pharm students. The positive feedback from participants and the overall success of the program reflect the dedication and effectiveness of the organizing team, the trainer, and the support from the college administration.

In conclusion, the workshop proved to be a success in achieving its objectives, and the participants gained valuable insights into the techniques of section cutting, sample preparation, and microscopic evaluation of crude drugs.

Descriptive Report:

The Yoga & Meditation workshop conducted at Shree Santkrupa College of Pharmacy proved to be a transformative experience for the Final Year B. Pharm SEM-VII students. Under the guidance of esteemed trainers, Dr. Swanand Kulkarni and Mr. Adhik Kadam, the participants delved into the realms of self-awareness, stress management, and holistic well-being.

The workshop commenced with an insightful introduction to Yoga and Meditation, setting the tone for subsequent sessions. The basis of Yoga education, coupled with practical applications and stress management techniques, provided a comprehensive understanding of the ancient practice. Pranayamas and Meditation sessions were conducted to instil mental hygiene, emotional stability, and moral principles among the students.

The syllabus, thoughtfully curated, ensured a well-rounded exposure to various facets of Yoga. The interactive sessions fostered a deep connection between the trainers and the students, creating an enriching learning environment. The participants actively engaged in Yogic Diet discussions, understanding its impact on overall health.

The schedule, spanning over several weeks, allowed for gradual immersion into the practices. Regular sessions facilitated continuous learning, enabling students to integrate the teachings into their daily lives.

Vote of Thanks:

The workshop's success was acknowledged through a heartfelt vote of thanks delivered by Mr. Atul M. Kadam. He expressed gratitude to Dr. Swanand Kulkarni and Mr. Adhik Kadam for their invaluable contribution to the program's success. The Management and Principal, Dr. V. R. Aralelimath, were appreciated for providing the opportunity to conduct such a beneficial workshop.

Mr. Atul M. Kadam also thanked the students for their active participation and patience throughout the workshop. He extended his appreciation to all faculty members for their timely assistance and successful organization of the workshop. The non-teaching staffs were recognized for their efforts in making basic preparations.

In conclusion, the Yoga & Meditation workshop at Shree Santkrupa College of Pharmacy was a resounding success, leaving a lasting impact on the holistic well-being of the participating students.
