Best Practices

7.2.1

Describe two best practices successfully implemented by the Institution as per NAAC format provided in the Manual

BEST PRACTICE-I

Title of the Practice:

Striving for Social Health: Exploring the path through community awareness

Objectives of the Practice:

- To enhance the contribution of pharmacists in improving social health through awareness activities.
- To develop a sense of social responsibility among students and promote awareness of good health within society.
- To enhance healthy life of the society
- To inculcate social values and responsibilities
- To involve students in social activities to promote social interactions and social networking skill.
- To provide an opportunity of experiential learning to the students that extend beyond the traditional classroom learning.

The Context:

Pharmacist is the 3rd largest group of healthcare professional in the world playing significant role in the healthcare sector contributing to the health of Nation. As a pharmacy institute, our primary focus is on cultivating responsible and accountable pharmacists. Our utmost social goal is to raise awareness among the rural community and provide them with the necessary care to promote a healthy and high-quality life. The development of human values in students is greatly influenced by their participation in social activities. These activities not only enhance their confidence but also teach them the importance of cooperation and teamwork. Through extension and outreach programs, students are exposed to various challenges that they may encounter in their educational and professional lives. By sensitizing them to social values, responsibilities and societal issues, we encourage students to actively engage with the community and develop a deeper understanding of the people around them.

The Practice:

In order to achieve our goals, we visit various villages and provide social services to the community through the organization of "Health Awareness drives and Health Check-Up Camps" including Ayurveda Awareness Program, AIDS Awareness Program, Oral Hygiene Awareness Program and Dental Check-up Camp, Cancer Awareness and Cancer detection

Camp, Stress Management program, Health Check Up Camp, Blood Donation Camp, Blood Pressure Measurement Camp, Yoga Day celebration, Vaccination drive, Sanitisation drive, Awareness Rallies, Mask Distribution program, AIDS Awareness Program

Evidence of Success:

- The students' organizational skills appeared to be improved while organising such health awareness and Health Check-Up programs.
- The students were sensitized and motivated organizing aforementioned programs and actively participated in various social activities organized by the institution.
- The College has received letters of appreciation from various organisation for organising such activities for social cause.
- Both the students as well as society get benefited from these activities organized by the institution.

Problems Encountered and Resources Required:

- Limited funds and funding sources are available for organizing such activities
- University sanctioned strength of only 40 students which causes limitations in involvement of more students those are interested to participate. Also, limited human resources will be available for conducting such social extension activities.
- Need to convince rural peoples for their active participation due to poor literacy and lack of health awareness.
